T.D

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-8 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-6 of copending Application No. 10/663962. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented. Note that the instant genus includes the genus in claim 1 of the other application and that the utility is the same.

Claims 3-6 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-7 of copending Application No. 10/743111. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented. Applicants The method of treating viral infections of the instant case includes the method of treating infections caused by Flaviviridae sp. Virus claimed in the application.

Claims 1 and 2 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1 and 2 of copending Application No. 10/752792. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented. The genera of compounds are almost the same.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-8 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of copending Application No. 10/663962. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant generic claim to compounds includes the genus of compounds in the other application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 3-6 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of copending Application No. 10/743111. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant method of treating a pathological viral infection includes the method of treating infections caused by Flaviviridae sp. virus.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 1 and 2 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 2 of copending

Application No. 10/752792. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the genera of compounds closely overlap. Note that the only difference is that R1 is broader in 10/752792 and the instant case is broader in that the stereochemistry of the substituents attached to heterocyclic ring is not specified.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Applicants' petition to grant the instant case continuation-in-part status from co-pending US Patent Application Serial No. 09/977,478 has been granted. It is determined that said application supplies proper support for the instant claims and thus the claims are entitled to the filing date of 10-15-2001 of said application. Thus the applicants World Patent 03/032905 which claims priority from the same application is not a proper reference against the instant claims.
